HMP & YOI Hull

Revised February 2025

Introduction

HMP Hull is a category B Men's prison located in Kington upon Hull in England.

Hull Prison opened in 1870 and is of a typical Victorian design.

The term 'local' means that this prison holds people on remand to the local courts. The prison is operated by His Majesty's Prison service.

As a Category B prison, HMP Hull primarily houses prisoners who are either on remand awaiting trial or serving sentences. The prison's operational capacity is 1,044, making it one of the larger prisons in the region. The facility is designed to provide a secure environment while offering various rehabilitation programs aimed at reducing reoffending. The prison is divided into multiple wings, each serving different purposes. For instance, A wing is dedicated to drug recovery, while other wings cater to sentenced and unsentenced adults, young offenders, and vulnerable prisoners, including sex offenders.

Foreword

HMP Hull is committed to the fostering of good family relationships and the maintenance of existing relationships, in order to aid the resettlement of prisoners.

The prison aims to provide a framework that enables positive outcomes and interactions for children and families with a close family member in our custody. The impact of any custodial sentence is not only felt on the family member but also on the family and friends of the prisoner.

A prison sentence can also have punitive consequences for families outside prison. Prisoners' families, particularly their children, are often termed the 'innocent victims' of crime (and punishment).

For a long time, prisoners' families were also referred to as the 'hidden' or 'invisible' victims of punishment or crime, since the hardships they experienced were not immediately obvious.

Family values are essential in today's society because they serve as the building blocks of strong and resilient family units. In a fast-paced world where individuals often face various challenges, family values provide a sense of belonging, support, and emotional connection. They foster open communication, trust, and understanding among family members, creating a stable and nurturing environment for personal growth and well-being.

Our social visits and family days aim to offer quality time together. Quality time is an essential family value that emphasizes the significance of spending meaningful and focused time together. In today's fast-paced world, where distractions abound, dedicating time exclusively to family interactions becomes increasingly crucial for building emotional connections and fostering strong relationships.

When family members spend quality time together, they create opportunities for genuine engagement and bonding. Activities like shared meals, family outings, or game nights enable family members to engage in conversations, share experiences, and create lasting memories.

Quality time is about being present and fully engaged with one another. Being present during quality time demonstrates that family members value and cherish one another's company. Moreover, quality time provides an environment for open communication and active listening.

Family members have the chance to express themselves, share their thoughts and feelings, and receive support and encouragement from one another.

Spending quality time together also reinforces the sense of belonging and love within the family. Children who regularly experience quality time with their parents feel secure, supported, and emotionally connected, which significantly contributes to their emotional and psychological well-being.

Why is Family Engagement important?

The Importance of Strengthening Prisoners' Family Ties to Prevent Re-offending and Reduce Intergenerational Crime.

In September 2016 Lord Farmer report, The Importance of Strengthening Prisoners Family Ties to Prevent Re-offending and Reduce Intergenerational Crime in partnership with the membership charity Clinks, was commissioned by the Government to investigate how connecting prisoners with their families can improve offender wellbeing, assist in keeping the public safe and reduce reoffending.

The Farmer report was published on 10 August 2017 and made 19 Recommendations that put family and significant others at the heart of prison reform. It supports efforts to improve the relationships between prisoners and their families or significant others and the services that are provided.

According to the Lord Farmer report, 'Family should be the 'golden thread' running through the processes of all prisons, as well as in the implementation of standards presented in the Prison Reform White Paper - Public protection, Safety and Order, Reform and Preparing for life after prison.

Lord Farmer's report referred to a 'local family offer' recommending that all establishments deliver and develop provision in the following areas and that these are reflected in their local strategies which should be a minimum offer:

- Visitor Centre/Visitor Reception Services
- Staffing structure to ensure family work represents as an operational priority
- Extended Visits – to enable supportive relationships to flourish
- Family Learning – to equip prisoners to maintain and improve relationships
- "Gateway" communications system – to demonstrate how the establishment have responsive communication systems in place for families

Although it can take time to identify a suitable befriender, we'll keep in touch through letters and cards. Once we have allocated a New Bridge befriender they will write and introduce themselves. Once befriender and prisoner feel they have got to know each other better (usually after about 6 months) they can arrange a visit.

Prisoner with no visits event: Activity days

The family engagement team (Lincolnshire Action Trust) and HMP Hull host a joint event for prisoners at HMP Hull that have not had a social visit in the last 6 months/longer. The aim of this event is to create a relaxed and open environment to allow prisoners who may benefit from this event to; meet new people, obtain peer support, speak to like-minded people in possibly the same situation. At HMP Hull we feel support from Family, Friends and Significant Others is vital that's why we want to provide you with this opportunity to have a positive effect on your wellbeing and ultimately the safety of the establishment.

What do HMP Hull do to support Young Adults in custody?

Supporting YA's

HMP Hull have launched priority keyworker for the 18-25 cohort where we are trying to facilitate one weekend a month priority keyworker for the YA group, this is carried out by Specific young adult keyworkers. It is sometimes difficult to always make this happen due to the priority keyworkers that a safer custody Supervising Officer drives and delivers daily very well with excellent results; this role is a ring-fenced role with external funding as a pilot that is really advantageous to the establishment.

We have launched the YA keyworker since only the middle of January 2025, we have adapted the original form and made an additional bespoke YA Keyworker questions example, which includes the likes care Leaver identification, neurodiverse or learning difference identification etc, we have also designed and delivered a keyworker guidance example of how to record the session on Nomis with a template for the staff, so we are recording quality entries.

YOUNG ADULT STRATEGY 2024

Chris Hill Young Adult Lead

Rob Jenkinson Head of Offender Management.

How prisoners apply for support:

- Disclose your Care Leaver status to staff when making applications for Interventions
- Disclose your Care Leaver status to your Keyworker and Offender Supervisor so that they can access additional support
- Ask a chaplain for an Official Prison Visitor

Future planning

Development plan 2025- 2026

The PID worker will also:

- Promote prisoners with no visits event
- Promote the assisted prison visits if the prisoner lives far from home
